Medium

Walnut and hard pine, as determined by microanalysis

Description

A Queen Anne style side chair with a rounded yoke-shaped crest rail, solid vase-shaped splat, and plain seat rails lacking a molded upper edge that sit on cabriole legs ending pad feet. Three cut out flat stretchers form an H-shaped assembly. The rear stiles have a flat front surface with a bead around their outer edge, but are chamfered on the back. The knee brackets consist of two parts with the facing glued to a backing that is tenoned into the leg. Traces of green paint can be found over the whole chair. The original foundation upholstery remains, as does the original leather cover that also shows evidence of green. It has been repainted in red with a white primer base.
