The Wreck of the New Era

Primary Maker

Drummond White

Medium

Watercolor and gouache on brown paper

Description

Depiction of a three-masted clipper ship sailing from left to right in a very heavy sea. Nearly all sails are set. The decks are crowded with people, and many are climbing up the ratlines into the rigging. A lifeboat containing eight people is being launched amidship. The name of the vessel, New Era, appears on a name board at the bow.
