

Side Chair

Medium

Mahogany, white oak, and Atlantic white cedar, the last two determined by microanalysis

Description

One of two. An open, slightly flaring back with a bow shaped crest rail features fluted and scrolled ears and a centered carved shell flanked by leaf carving. The symmetrical splat combines pierced and scrolled elements interlaced with a central diamond. The slip seat rests on plain rails molded on their upper edge. The front cabriole legs, which have shell carvings on the knees, end in claw and ball feet.
