Description

A woman's day dress in lightweight navy blue silk in two pieces including an underskirt and a bodice with an attached overskirt. The bodice has a front button closure, a fitted and gathered bodice with piped seams, slightly dropped shoulder seams with long shaped sleeves gathered at the wrists with deep cuffs. The bodice's rounded neckline includes a narrow standing collar edged with eyelet lace. A row of pink crocheted covered dome buttons run down the front of the bodice and are also used as decorative elements at the cuffs, shoulders, and on the sides of the overskirt. The bodice's attached overskirt flares out from a very narrow fitted waist and falls to knee length. The matching underskirt is ornamented with gathered and ruffled panels along the hem.
