

Undershirt

Medium

Wool flannel, cotton

Description

A man's undershirt, made of sturdy red wool flannel. The garment is simply made, with a three-button front placket, self-bound round neckline, and long, full sleeves gathered to a wristband with a single button closure. Two elongated triangular red wool panels are set into the undershirt along the shoulders as gussets for additional fullness. At the back of the undershirt, a square panel of lightweight red wool is sewn. Both hand sewing and machine sewing are used in the construction.
