Printed linen/cotton blend

Description

A woman's printed linen/cotton work dress, in a brown and red geometric repeat pattern, constructed as one piece, with front closure of hooks and eyes, gathered loose-fitting front bodice, round neck with wide attached collar, and loose-fitting back gathered into numerous cartridge pleats along waistband. The gown's long sleeves are full and gathered along the upper armhole, tapering to a close-fitting wrist with hook and thread loop closures. The gown also includes a large, deep pocket sewn at the proper right hip, made of sturdy off-white linen/cotton fabric. The bodice has a partial lining of off-white linen sewn along the sides only, following the underarm seam and extending to the inner waistband.
