Dress

Medium

Silk, silk fringe, rhinestones

Description

A woman's evening gown of salmon pink silk, including a deep V neckline front and back, sleeveless style, and a relatively unfitted dropped waist. The waist is cut asymmetrically, with a dropped V panel above the left hip area. The silk skirt is cut with a slight flare, and an overlay of deep silk fringe even with the hem. A narrow vertical band of rhinestones is sewn down the center front bodice, with slight gathering of the bodice on either side of the band. Long narrow lengths of fringe hang down the back on both left and right sides, with a vertical narrow band of rhinestones sewn to the tops of the shoulders and the top ends of the fringe, allowing both tassel bunches to swing freely. The gown fastens along the left side, with a vertical row of hooks and eyes.. The dress bodice is fully lined with lightweight ivory silk.
