

Woman's Suit

Medium

Wool yarn, celluloid buckle, elastic

Description

A woman's five piece day suit of hand-knitted fine soft orange wool yarn, consisting of a short-sleeved sweater (a), knee-length A-line skirt (b), cardigan style jacket (c), scarf (d), and narrow belt (e). The sweater features a delicate allover shell pattern, with a square neckline and short, close-fitting sleeves; both sleeve and sweater bottom are finished with rib stitch. The skirt is a simple A line, with a wide seven-inch border of shell stitch with a shallow scalloped hem edge and half-inch elastic running through an openwork band and hand-sewn closed with gray thread. The accompanying jacket is constructed in an open front style with an inch-wide banded border of a simple seed stitch; the jacket's long sleeves flare out slightly at the wrists and include a seven-inch border of shell stitching. The suit includes a scarf with shell pattern ends and a narrow one-inch belt with a rounded end and a pearly white plastic/celluloid ovoid buckle.