

Basic Detail Report

Hand Fan

Medium

Paper, ivory

Description

A hand fan, consisting of tapered ivory sticks, with two slightly larger stick guards at left and right. The fan paper is a wide width and ends just above the stick pivot point. The tops of the paper are scalloped. The fan includes two different scenes, one depicting an evening card game, the second a lively dance, with both groups of people dressed in vaguely 18th century costumes. Additional papers are glued to the outsides of the guards and include banding above and below a pair of crossed torches. The fan retains its original cord loop.
