Description

An animated scene of an eleven bay, three story college building, with a projecting pedimented central pavilion surmounted by an elaborate octagonal cupola, and four chimneys. The main structure is flanked on the left by a five bay, square, hip roofed building with three chimneys and railed platform at the roof peak. It is also flanked on the right by a four bay, two story structure with four chimneys, and a front porch with five columns. The property is surrounded by a picket fence with an elaborate gateway in the near corner intersection of two streets. A curving path leads from the gate to the front of the buildings, while another path goes directly from the gate to the main central building. The lot is heavily landscaped with trees. The street features three horse drawn vehicles, with numerous people on the sidewalks. More figures can be seen on the various walkways within the fence, and on the porch of the right hand structure. The sky is shown with moody white clouds.
