

Village of Long Branch, New Jersey 1849

Primary Maker

Joshua Parker

Medium

Watercolor and ink on paper

Description

A full color villagescape view of a group of one and two story houses (some with outbuildings), commercial structures, a church, and a school, all clustered around the intersection of three roads marked by a flagpole. The buildings all have black roofs, and, except for one house in center foreground, black windows. Picket, board and rail fences mark off yards and larger lots as well as property frontage along the roads. Trees dot the landscape, and an orchard appears in the lower right corner. Ornamental plantings line several of the roads. An outhouse is depicted in the lower left foreground.

Dimensions
