Description

A view looking along a riverbank at a series of docks and warehouses with three sailing vessels tied up at the docks. A tree and part of a fence or ladder establishes the left foreground. Beyond it is a three story warehouse with extensions behind it on the left. Two small single story structures are depicted between it and a large three story warehouse on a high foundation that features dormer windows in the top story and pulleys on both gable ends for moving goods to the upper stories of the building. Beyond the sailing vessels are a cluster of buildings at the end of a bridge with a lift span in its center.
