

Woman's Walking Suit

Primary Maker

Lillie Brown Anderson

Medium

Wool, velvet, cotton

Description

A woman's two-piece day or walking suit consisting of a knee-length fitted jacket and long skirt, both of superfine medium brown wool. The jacket is constructed with a closefitting rounded collarless neckline, long fitted sleeves, and hidden front hook-and-eye closures. Brown velvet panels are inset along the bodice front alternating with woven metallic brown, green, and dull pink floral panels. Brown soutache trim is applied in a meander pattern on the jacket's front, sides, and back. Pairs of brown wool covered buttons complete the jacket's ornamentation on the back. The jacket is worn over a matching simple brown wool skirt, with inverted pleating at front and back for walking, and a simple fitted waistband with a hook and eye rear closure.